FINAL SETTLEMENT OF AN OLD CASE

Douglas County's Treasurer Ordered to Refund Several Hundred Dollars to H. A. Merrill-Affecting the New Ballot Law-Lincoln News Notes.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 30 .- [Special to THE BRE. |-The supreme court today handed down a number of important decisions. Among them was the old case of H. A. Merrill against Adam Snyder, treasurer of Douglas county. Although this case was practically settled some time ago the principle of law involved has never until today been laid down by the court and it is a case which is of no little importance, not only to the people of Dougias county, but of every county in the state. On January 5, 1889, H. A. Merrill purchased at a private tax sale lots 5 and 6, in block 3, Capitol Hill, paying therefor the sum of $86.34, the amount of de-linquent taxes, and taking a certificate of tax sale from the treasurer. He afterwards paid, at different times, delinquent taxes on the lots until the whole amount be had paid was on January 5, 1891, $578.70. On that on January 5, 1891, $573.70. On that date, however, the owner of the lots paid to the county treasurer the sum of $573.70 and received a redemption certificate. Treasurer Snyder then held the money paid him by both Merrill and the owner of the lots. Merrill brought an action to compel Snyder to repay the money paid by him with interest. Snyder refused, urging in his answer that the owner of the lots had commenced an action of the lots and commenced and the lots had commenced and the action to have the taxes, or at least a part of them, declared filegal and void, and that pending the suit it was his duty to rotain the money. Merrill demurred to the answer and the case was submitted to the supreme court on the pleadings on March 24, 1891, and the court, two days later, sustained the demurrer, and issued a west of mendagings. demurrer and issued a writ of mandamus commanding Treasurer Snyder to repay the money to Merrill.

In the opinion handed down today Chief Justice Maxwell sums up the case as follows:
"The whole theory of the tax system of this state is that taxes shall be equally imposed upon all taxable property, and that such taxes shall be collected and paid. The de-sign of the law is to protect the owner of the sign of the law is to protect the owner of the land against inequitable burden as far as is consistent with the requirement that he discharge the burden placed thereon. If he fails to pay upon his real estate it may be sold for such taxes and may be redeemed at any time within two years thereafter. The law also protects the purchaser at tax sale and provides that he shall at least be repaid his money with a certain amount of interest. If there was no authority to levy the taxes in If there was no authority to levy the taxes in question then it would be the duty of the county to reimburse the tax purchaser the amount paid by him."

Affecting the New Ballot Law.

Another important case decided today was the case of Richard H. Pearl and others against the state of Nebraska ex rel John H. Huering. It is a case from Hamilton county, growing out of the operations of the new ballot law, and is important. Hamilton county is divided into three commissioner districts. The Third commissioner district in cludes within its boundaries a part of the Third ward of the city of Aurora, which city is also divided into three wards. Prior to the last general election the three commissioner districts had been subdivided for election purposes in such a manner as to leave a frac-tional portion attached to a voting district outside of the Third commissioner district. No provision was made for taking the votes the electors residing in this fractional portion. John H. Huering and Oscar Shankland were opposing candidates for the office of county commissioner of the Third district. Huering received 258 votes, while Shankland received 255. But, in addition to the votes counted for Shankland, five votes were cast for him in this fractional portion of the Third ward of the city of Aurora, which had been left out in the cold set it were. The county commissioners sit-

Aurora, which had been left out in the cold as it were. The county commissioners, sitting as a canvassing board, counted these five votes for Shankland and gave him the certificate. Huering applied to the district court and received a peremptory writ of mandamus requiring the county clerk to cancel the certificate of election siready given to Shankland and compelling the canvassion heard to recenves the votes and deriven to Shankland and compelling the can-vassing board to recanvass the votes and de-clare Huering elected to the office. The su-preme court today reversed the decision of the district court. In the opinion, written by Judge Post, the principle is established that it is not within the power established that it is not within the power of a board of county commissioners to disfranchise legal voters by subdividing a county for election purposes in such a manner as to leave them without an opportunity to participate in the election of county officers.

Secretary Powers Resigns.

John H. Powers has tendered his resigna-tion as a member of the Nebraska Columbian commission. Governor Boyd has accepted it only conditionally, as the following corre-spondence will show:

Spondence will show:

By the terms of Governor Boyd's accept-tance Mr. Powers is placed in a position of suspense. He is still a member of the com-mission and will be until his successor is apmission and will be until his successor is appointed. It is certain that no successor will be appointed until the affairs of the commission have been untangled, and a second letter will go to Mr. Powers extending to him a cordial invitation to be present at the meeting of the commission on April 5 and assist in the work of ascertaining where that somewhat demoralized body stands.

Dr. Somers Files His Answer.

A. B. Somers, who was appointed health commissioner of the city of Omana by Mayor Bemis and whose appointment has been contested by his predecessor, Dr. Clarke Gapen, filed his answer to the latter's petition in the supreme court today. In it he alleges that Mayor Bemis was duly elected and that Dr. Gapen was then removed from the office of health commissioner; that Somers had been appointed, his appointment confirmed by the council and that he had assumed the duties of the office and that he is still exercising the same. A stipulation was also filed cising the same. A stipulation was also filed today, by the terms of which a demurrer to Somers' answer is to be filed and the case sub-

Another Case from Custer County.

The Custer County Agricultural society petitions the supreme court to mandamus the board of supervisors of that county to include in the tax estimate for 1893 a sum sufficient to reimburse the society for the amount collected for it by the county last year and which the county refused to pay over according to law. The law provides that a tax of 3 cents for each inhabitant of the county may be levied for the benefit of the county agricultural society. This amount was collected in Custer county last year, but it was placed in the general fund and paid out for other purposes. Now the society wants the amount refunded to them and also another lavy of 3 cents for each inhabitant. The amount involved is about $1,600.

The jury in the Gafford-Mooney inquest. after hearing the testimony of all the inmates of the King house where the crime was committed, came to the conclusion that a double murder bad been committed, either for the purpose of robbery or as a result of jealousy by some party or parties unknown and rendered a verdict accordingly. The grounds of their belief, as brought out in the testimony, are briefly as follows:

There were no powder marks on Gafford's face, and a shot fired at short range would Shilling. These gentlemen will at once proceed to condemn and appraise the property along the right of way in the eastern part of the city. Petitions to condemn land belonging to the following were flied today: William Rowerdich, Tillie May, Wulliam Gillespie, J. D. McFarland, A. K. Griffith and L. L. Stewart.

It is stated that Mr. Thompson, the Rock Island right of way agent, is experiencing some difficulty in closing up the final deals for the property on Nineteenth street between O and R streets. It is thought that face, and a shot fired at short range would always leave such marks.

The bed clothes were undisturbed and the shot had been fired while the victim was ying on the side, whereas if he had committed suicide he would probably have sat up to discharge the pistol.

The money which he had pinned in his night shirt was found under a bed in an adjoining room with one bill so placed in the bend of his elbow that it must have dropped there after the shot was fired.

The windows of the adjoining room had been opened and all the gas had been turned must have done so in the dark.

The father of the murdered young man upon hearing the verdiet announced that he proposed to leave no stone unturned to trace and punish the murderer of his son. It seems almost certain that a regularly organized gang of burglars of more or less professional skill had taken up its residence in Lincoln with the intention of remaining here. For four nights attempted safe cracking has been reported. Last night Officers McMillan and Kucera had a lively chase after one of the gentry in which a dozen or more shots were fired by both sides, without effect. An attempt was made to enter the residence of Captain Beartisley, on Fifteenth street. An-Concluding the Inquiry.

Morey Hart, a handsome young fellow 23 years of age, was first putton the stand yesterday morning. He testified that he had first known the girl Mabel as Mabel Daniels at the house kept by Birdle Mann; had known Cecii Gray since she was 10 years old; had frequently heard of Gafford and had rend a letter to the dead girl written by him; but was not at the house the night of the tragedy. All the inmates were put on the stand and the story of the night, as related by Cecil Gray, was told over and over, but without throwing any new light on the case. All testified that the house, and particularly the victim, had grown tired of Gafford, but none of them had heard any shot or unusual disturbance on the night of the murder.

The colored housekeeper, Alice, gave an outline of the daily routine at the house and stated that the folding doors had been out of order for a long time, so that entrance could be had if the doors were locked. She also testified that she had not taken any liquor to the room on Saturday night and that Cecil was wrong in her statement to the contrary. Fiannery was indicted by the last grand jury on the charge of having shot with intent to kill. Charles Bauer, a policeman, was the party who posed as a target. His story is that during the evening of June 2, 1889 a row was in progress at Muller's saloon at Eighteenth and Vinton streets. Bauer went in to quell the disturb ance. Flannery was arrested as one of the participants and taken to the Central station. There he was released on bonds and returned to his home. On his way down Sixteenth street he met Bauer and irred at him a couple of times. Flannery was re-arrested and taken back to jail. The bext day when the case was called in police court, the prosecuting attorney moved for a dismissal and Finnery was released without an investigation.
